

Leveraged Lion Capital Monthly Report

March 2023

LLC Updates

March was extremely busy for LLC Portfolio Managers. On March 2nd, the organization held its semi-annual Wall Street trip. This trip was an incredible opportunity for our members to learn more about different banks and to build their professional networks as recruiting processes accelerate. The six banks visited on this trip were: Bank of America, Citi, Cowen, SVB Securities, UBS, and Wells Fargo. Thank you to all the LLC and Penn State alumni who helped make this trip possible!

Additionally, the new LLC Alumni Mentorship Program was created and over a dozen Portfolio Managers were paired with alumni mentors. This program aims to enhance the connection between LLC and our alumni and to support our members as they navigate Wall Street recruiting processes. This program furthers the Executive Board's initiative to increase mentorship in addition to previous programs, including pairing every sophomore with an Executive Board member as a mentor.

In class, sectors completed their third round of investment pitches and presented relevant case study topics. The Goldman Sachs Investment Banking team visited class on March 24th. After holding a Q&A panel, members of the organization were able to have 1-on-1 coffee chats with the GS team.

Alumni Spotlight: Holden Hunter '22

1. When were you a member of LLC and what positions did you hold?

I joined in Fall 2019 as an Associate Analyst in the Materials Sector, then became the Lead Analyst of REGAL/FIG, and finished as the Director of Credit Research.

2. How did LLC help prepare you for your career?

Beyond giving me a great fundamental knowledge of fixed income markets and the ability to analyze a credit and come up with the story, LLC taught me how to effectively communicate these topics. Knowing the answer is only the first step, it's crucial that you can convey your ideas to others thoughtfully and back up your reasoning. From my very first pitch to my final credit research presentation, LLC continually sharpened my ability to communicate complex ideas to others while forcing me to adapt and think on my feet.

3. What advice would you give to the new members of LLC?

I have always given new members the same advice: the true strength of the organization is the people that are a part of it. Every member of LLC, especially the more senior individuals, have been where you are and have gone through the process. They have an abundance of knowledge they can share with you from technical skills to networking advice and are more than willing to help and guide you. Take advantage of this and look to them for advice as they have already found the same success that you are seeking. Don't forget to enjoy your time at school and make meaningful relationships with those around you.

4. What advice would you give to current LLC members for their internships this summer?

Go into the internship with a great attitude and always be willing to learn. As an intern you aren't expected to know everything, but you are expected to learn the role and get better throughout the summer. If you have a good attitude about the job, even the parts that may not seem as interesting, those around you will be more willing to teach you and invest in your success. Finally, take a lot of notes. While this may seem obvious, it will help you learn and understand things better if you have material to reference later and it will help avoid having to ask the same questions twice.

Holden is currently an analyst at SMBC in their Leveraged finance department. Before his current role he interned at SMBC on the Debt Capital Markets Syndicate team. Holden graduated from Penn State in the spring of 2022 with a degree in Finance. While at school some of Holden's activities outside of LLC included the Penn State Varsity Cheerleading team and his fraternity SigEp.

Leveraged Loan & HY Bond News

Leveraged loans returned (0.10%) during the month of March, flipping negative for the first time in six months. Market conditions during the month following the banking crisis were hit with extreme volatility, and concerns of a possible economic meltdown greatly impacted issuance volume. Gross issuance plummeted 55.00% from $89.70 bn last month to $17.30 bn. Net volume followed in style, falling by 40.00% to $5.70 bn, only somewhat buffered by M&A financing activity.

CLO issuance ran into a few bumps on the road with the banking crisis as well as Japanese banks' year-end results. March's CLO volume dipped to 25 deals for a total of $10.90 bn, well outpacing January's pace of $7.40 bn but still falling short of February's 35 deals and $15.00 bn in total volume. Loan mutual fund outflows posted a net outflow of $4.30 bn, more than the $3.90 bn total from the previous two months.

In the secondary high-yield market, losses for the month from the banking crisis were luckily recovered, ending the month at 1.13% after hitting a low of (1.35%) on March 15. Total return for the year edged up to 3.72% even as average yield to worst fell 19 bps to 8.49% and average spread to worst tightened by 16 bps to T+458.

CIO Commentary

For the month of March 2023, Leveraged Lion Capital's leveraged loan portfolio returned (0.30%) nominally, an underperformance to the LSTA 100 Index of 0.20%. Leveraged Lion Capital's high yield bond portfolio returned 0.77% nominally, an underperformance to the HY Index of 0.33%. As the Federal Reserve signaled a slowing of interest rate hikes with improving inflation numbers, bond markets showed greater confidence and posted an optimistic 0.87% additional return compared to leveraged loans.

Break vs. Issue Price

New-Issue Market Trends

The flex ratio reversed this month to marginally favor investors, with 7 deals flexing up and 6 flexing down. This represented the first investor-friendly print since September of last year. March launches were also heavily weighted to the beginning of the month but quickly trailed off after the failure of SVB. In addition to the rollercoaster of emotions and volatility throughout the month, the emergence of PIK instruments is becoming increasingly more apparent as the high interest rates continue to strain issuers.

In the middle market, CLO issuance saw a slight decrease but remained relatively strong at $3.10 bn. However, concerns over defaults continue to hover over the space, with projections coming to 5.00%.

Credit/Documentation Trends

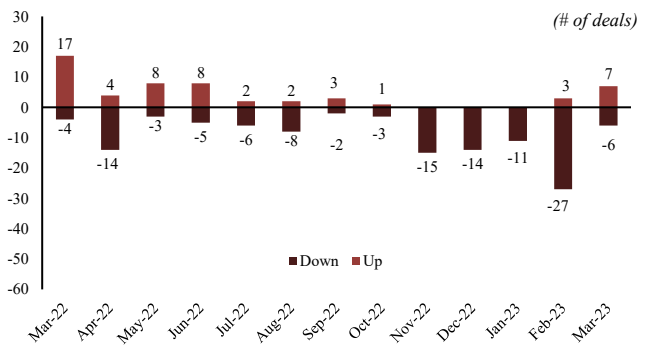

With the limited number of loan issuances recently, there were eight documented deals for the month. The average Documentation Score tightened to 3.31 from 3.59 in February. For the last three months, the percentage of deals with uncapped EBITDA adjustments increased to 45.00% to give issuers more flexibility, and the percentage of loans clearing MFN sunsets edged up to 51.00% for the recently-ended Q1.

Default Statistics

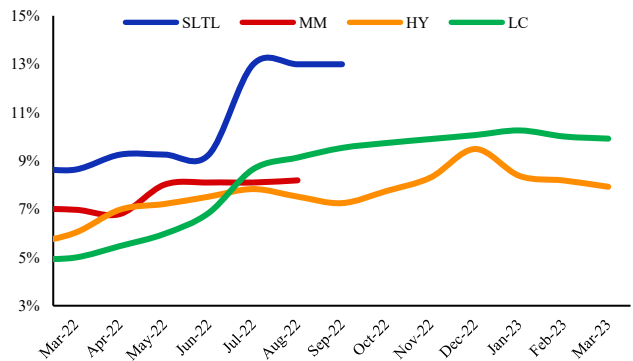

Six defaults this month from Bioplan, Loyalty Ventures, Yak Mat, Diamond Sports, Checkout Holdings, and Travelport totaled $7.77 bn. The TTM default rate also edged up from 1.90% to 2.20%, although the volume of Top Market Concern Loans eased to $45.50 bn from $49.60 bn, now representing 2.70% of leveraged loans.

Sector Summaries

Consumer & Retail*Lead Analyst: Max Aurilio*

The Consumer and Retail Sector returned 2.46% nominally this month. The Sector's best performing holding this month was Energizer Holdings' 2029 Senior Unsecured Bond, trading up 349.0 bps. Energizer reported sales and net income misses on a recent earnings call, but a massive increase in available cash caused debt securities to trade up. The Sector's worst performing holding this month was G-III Apparel's 2025 Senior Secured Bond, trading up 91.0 bps. G-III is still under investigation by multiple law firms for possible violations of federal securities laws in their 3Q22 earnings report. The Sector will continue monitoring the recent trend of brand loyalty decaying as consumers look for the cheapest deal rather than their favorite well-known brands.

Energy & Utilities*Lead Analyst: Ivan Sosa*

The Energy Sector returned 2.24% nominally this month. The Sector's best performing holding this month was Antero Midstream's 2027 Senior Unsecured Bond, trading up 349.3 bps. A strong earnings report combined with rebounding crude oil prices fueled increased investment in both Antero Midstream's equity and debt. The Sector's worst performing holding this month was Genesis Energy's 2027 Senior Unsecured Bond, trading up 89.8 bps. Genesis Energy posted moderate gains following rising crude oil prices and reports of an increased dividend resulting from strong earnings. The Sector will be monitoring OPEC+ production cuts and forecasts following the recently announced production cuts from member countries along with any U.S. announcements regarding the refilling of the Strategic Petroleum Reserve.

Healthcare*Lead Analyst: Luke Zoll*

Healthcare loans returned 0.20% nominally this month and bonds returned 1.23% nominally. The Sector's best performing holding this month was HealthEquity's 2029 Senior Secured Bond, trading up 273.0 bps. The market reacted positively to the company's strong earnings report, which beat expectations. The Sector's worst performing holding this month was RadNet's 2028 1L TLB, trading flat with 0 bps of price appreciation. The market reacted to RadNet's investor presentation in which they released strong 2023 guidance and discussed advantageous market demographic shifts. The Sector will be monitoring guidance regarding policy action related to the healthcare sector during the World Health Summit Regional Meeting later this month.

Industrials*Lead Analyst: Nihar Kalikota*

The Industrials Sector returned (4.01%) nominally this month. The Sector's best performing holding this month was Enpro Industries' 2026 Senior Unsecured Bond, trading up 259.9 bps. The Company recently reported positive earnings performance, detailing an increase in Adjusted EBITDA of 39.40%. The Sector's worst performing holding this month was Tutor Perini's Senior Unsecured Bond, trading down 1287.7 bps. The Company is performing terribly after its most recent earnings report which showcased a loss from construction operations of $204.80 mm due to a loss of contracts. The Sector will be monitoring the United States Manufacturing Payrolls on April 7th.

Sector Summaries

Information Technology*Lead Analyst: Peyton Brezski*

Information Technology loans returned (0.19%) nominally this month and bonds returned (3.74%) nominally. The Sector's best performing holding this month was Playtika's 2028 TLB, trading up 12.5 bps. Playtika announced last month that after offering to pay a 40.00% premium for Rovio, talks to acquire the game-developing company have ended. The Sector's worst performing holding this month was Consensus Cloud Solutions' 2028 Senior Unsecured Bond, trading down 324.4 bps. The Company received a notice from Nasdaq last month that it is not in compliance with a rule regarding the timely filing of financial statements due to the delayed release of the FY2022 10-K after an unintentional auditing error. The Sector will be monitoring the release of the S&P Global U.S. Sector PMI on April 5, which will provide insight into the level of output from the IT sector in March.

Materials*Lead Analyst: Nick Skiadas*

The Material sector returned 1.85% nominally this month. The Sector's best performing holding this month was Mercer International's 2029 Senior Unsecured Bond, trading up 307.7 bps. The company recently signed its first major mass timber project contract with a large consumer products retailer. The Sector's worst performing holding this month was Tronox's 2028 TLB, trading down 75.0 bps. The market is looking forward to the company's 1Q23 earnings report in late April. The Sector will plan to move into Advanced Drainage System's 2030 Senior Unsecured Notes and add Eldorado Gold's 2029 Senior Unsecured Notes to the bench.

Media & Communications*Lead Analyst: David Harris*

Media and Communication loans returned 0.38% nominally this month, and bonds returned 0.67% nominally. The Sector's best performing holding this month was Microstrategy's 2028 Secured Bonds, trading up 486.8 bps. Microstrategy has invested over $4.00 bn in Bitcoin, and the cryptocurrency's price increased by 20.50% in March. The Sector's worst performing holding this month was Tegna's 2029 Senior Unsecured Bonds, trading down 193.3 bps. The Company had underperformed as the company's acquisition by hedge fund Standard General has faced regulatory issues since the deal was announced in February 2022, and many investors fear the acquisition will be blocked. The Sector will continue to monitor the potential TikTok ban in the United States and the effects it may have on other social media platforms.

REGAL-FIG*Lead Analyst: Daniel Alpert*

The REGAL-FIG Sector returned (3.12%) nominally this month. The Sector's best performing holding this month was Playa Hotels and Resorts' 2028 TLB, trading down 12.5 bps. Playa has had a great start to FY23 with weekly bookings hitting all time highs. They expect this performance to carry over into what should be their best summer yet. The Sector's worst performing holding this month was Virtu Financial's 2029 TLB, trading down 237.5 bps. Virtu Financial is expected to underperform significantly this year according to analysts. All eyes are on their 1Q23 earnings report in April. The Sector will be monitoring the earnings of many regional and bulge bracket banks as the banking crisis continues to play out.

Spring 2023 Organizational Overview

Leveraged Lion Capital is the nation's first student-run syndicated paper loan and high yield bond portfolio. Founded in Spring 2017 at The Pennsylvania State University, the organization aims to educate undergraduate students about the world of fixed income through the utilization of various resources and unique relationships with financial organizations and institutions, including Bank of America, the LSTA, and S&P Global Market Intelligence. Managing an approximately $125 million paper portfolio, students seek to learn the fundamentals of credit analysis via a hands-on approach by researching, analyzing, and pitching U.S. leveraged loans and high yield bonds to the rest of the organization. The portfolio is divided into eight sectors that are derived from the S&P/LSTA 100 Index, consisting of Consumer & Retail, Energy, Healthcare, Industrials, Information Technology, Materials, Media & Communications, and REGAL-FIG (Real Estate, Gaming & Leisure, Financial Institutions Group).
